

Where's Karson?

The Appalachian Trail for the Food Shelf

Karson Madole is attempting to walk the Appalachian Trail, a total of nearly 2200 miles, 5 million steps. He would like to raise money for our local food shelf while doing his bucket list hike.

And we are wondering if you want to help. We are asking for a donation per mile or a 1-time donation, but 100% of the donation will go to the food shelf. All of his expenses are taken care of by his hard work or a few sponsors. Any donation over 10 cents per mile will get a tag along his trek in his posts on Instagram, maybe a little advertising for your business.

Please fill out the donation form so that we can properly thank all the people that help raise money for the food shelf.

Thanks for your help.
